

I am begging you, please, do not allow cell phone use on planes. At least in other locations a person has the option of getting up and leaving if someone is having a personal conversation on the phone. What's the option on a plane? Using your imagination will tell you what horrors will unfold if cell phone use is allowed. We don't allow smoking on planes, and cell phone use in such a restricted environment is no less intrusive.